But higher far my proud pretensions rise,

Preface.

This little volume has been compiled amid great difficulties. So few seemed to care about their heredity it was hard to get the necessary information.

It was begun in 1882, and most of the data was collected very soon after this date. A few facts that have come to my knowledge since have been recorded; but no effort has been made to obtain later records.

The book might have been much more complete if inquiries had been more fully answered. Some would reply only after receiving a second, or a third, or a fourth request; and many would not favor me with any reply.

Mistakes will be found, as there is likely to be in all human productions; but great effort has been put forth to secure accuracy in all these records.

When I began this task I fondly hoped and even expected that researches and inquiries might bring to light records from which could be obtained a full account of most, if not all, of the family of our progenitor. But I have found very little of his children, except Samuel. I have searched the old records of Wills, Deeds, etc., on file in Perth Amboy, the colonial capital of New Jersey, and in Trenton and New Brunswick, N. J.; and have visited the old graveyards of Middlesex County; have corresponded or tried to correspond with everyone who claimed to belong to the family; and this volume contains the results of my labors. To those who have aided me I herewith return hearty thanks.

No one can regret more than myself that the record is not more complete. And perhaps no one rejoices more than I that it is as full as it is, and is now put in a shape in which it can be preserved and consulted.

The Compiler.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.—This book contains chiefly the record of Samuel, one of the sons of Nicholas. The plan is to take one son and complete his family record before beginning that of another son or daughter. As no record was found of the sons of Samuel except his son Samuel, the plan just explained begins with the family of this Samuel.

VINEYARD ROAD—Looking South

Nicholas Mundy settled near Metuchen, Middlesex County, New Jersey, about the year 1665. There is a tradition of a Deed said to have been in possession of Samuel Mundy, who lived near the Landing, New Brunswick, N. J., showing that he took up land in 1665.

In Book of Deeds A, p. 226, at Trenton N. J., is recorded a Deed from Vincent Runyon to Nicholas Mundy, dated Feb. 7, 1679, conveying a tract of land, near the Vineyard Road, one side of this land being described as bounded "on the west by land of Nicholas Mundy."

In Dr. E. F. Hatfield's History of Elizabeth, N. J., on p. 146, after recording the breaking open of the house of Mr. Pardon, Gov. Carteret's Secretary, it is added, "James, the Governor's man, Nicholas Mundy, Cramer and his wife, and many others were standing by." The date is June 25, 1672.

It is thought that he lived near where the "Vineyard Road" intersects the New Brunswick turnpike. This Vineyard Road formerly ran in a northerly direction and connected with the "Old Road" leading from Metuchen to New Durham. The New Brunswick turnpike and the Amboy turnpike were constructed years afterward.

He was a blacksmith, or at least worked at smithing; and the tradition is that he used a stone for his anvil.

I have not been able to ascertain from what country he came, but it is supposed he was an Englishman.

As his name does not appear in the printed lists of Immigrants, he may have come over as a sailor working his passage, or possibly by way of the West Indies.

Earlier in this century some Mundys came to Virginia, (about 1630) and it is possible that he is one of their descendants, who came North and settled in New Jersey.

In Trenton, N. J., is recorded the Will of Nicholas Mundy, dated Sept. 2, 1734.

In Book E of Deeds, p. 359, there is recorded an "Indenture" between Nicholas Mundy, of Piscataway and Mark Dissosway, of Staten Island, dated June 6, 1695, conveying certain tracts of land to Nicholas Mundy on condition that he "marry Elizabeth Douty, late of Somerset County."

In book F of Deeds, p. 102, date Sept. 16, 1695, is recorded a Deed, containing these words: "I, Nicholas Mundy, blacksmith, for the love I bear to my son Nicholas, convey to him two tracts of land, lying in the Vineyard, one of 17 acres, and the other of 56 acres."

In the will mentioned above Hope Mundy is named as his wife. (This may have been a second wife.)

Twelve children are mentioned in this Will, and one grand-daughter, Providence Blackford.

Their names are as follows: Joseph, Hopewell, Thomas, Nicholas, Benjamin, John, Abigail Gyles, Hope Blackford, Elizabeth, Mary Luke, Margaret and Samuel.

The will is signed by his "mark" N N, looking a little like the initials of his name. Hope, his wife, and Thomas are named as the executors.

His death took place (probably) Sept. 7, 1734.

From the wills recorded in Trenton, only a few facts can be gathered, in relation to these twelve children.

In 1749 letters of administration were granted to Sarah Mundy, widow of Hopewell Mundy. Also in the same year, letters of administration to Elsie Mundy and Joseph Mundy on estate of Joseph Mundy. In 1776 is recorded the will of John Mundy, and names of his children are as follows: John, Benjamin, Ambrose, Ann wife of John Blackford, Catharine wife of William Luke, Priscilla wife of Reuben Mundy, Sarah wife of Nicholas Mundy, and Martha; and grand-children Elizabeth daughter of Sarah, and Benjamin, Joseph and Levi Mundy.

In the old burying ground at Metuchen, N. J., stands a stone with this inscription: "In memory of Levi Mundy, who died May 26, 1854, in the 94th year of his age." By its side is also that of his wife, "Catharine, wife of Levi Mundy died March 14, 1831, age 72 years."

So far as known he is the oldest person buried in this yard. He was an exemplary man, a regular attendant of the Presbyterian church, and probably is the Levi just mentioned.

The last named son of Nicholas Mundy, Samuel, (probably) occupied the same place, a little northwest of the Vineyard Road, afterward owned by his son, Joshua, and by his son Benajah.

His children, as mentioned in his will, are Samuel, Nicholas, Benajah, Joshua, Phebe, Sophia and Rhoda; and grand-children, Henry and Isabel; also Nathan and Azariah, "sons of my son Joshua. Daniel Whitehead is mentioned as a son-in-law.

This Samuel, the son first named above, married Elizabeth Griffith, sister of Edward Griffith, who lived on the "Talmage" farm, about three-quarters of a mile south of New Durham, and near the Rail Road.

In the Stelton church yard stands a stone marking the grave of Edward Griffith, on which is this inscription: "In memory of Edward Griffith, who departed this life March 23, 1813, aged 75 years. He worthily fulfilled the office of Deacon in this church near 50 years."

This Samuel Mundy died in 1801, and his wife, Elizabeth, died October 30, 1793, aged 57 years.

Their children are:

HENRY, who married Humy Ayres.

SAMUEL, who married first a Barron and second a Rowland, and who lived at the Landing.

SARAH, married Ellis Ayres (brother of Humy).

JEPHTHA, married an Ayers (but not of the above family).

PHINEHAS, who died young.

BENAJAH, who married Lovicy Frazee.

EDWARD, who married a Crowell (and lived in Woodbridge).

EZRA, who married a Prall.

MARGARET, who died unmarried.

RACHEL, who married Reuben Freeman and afterwards James Matthews.

NOTE.—In the spring of 1893 I set up a stone to mark the grave of this Samuel Mundy, who was my (paternal) great-grand-father, placing it by the side of one erected to his wife, which bears this record:

“Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Mundy, died October 30, 1793, aged 57 years.”

He devoted his life to Art, and had a good degree of skill as a painter and sculptor. In early life, his eyes became impaired which greatly hindered his work. The writer of these records has often gone out with him at night to lead him along the street. Soon after reaching manhood he entered the studio of Henry K. Brown, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and remained with him seven years. During this time he worked on the model of the equestrian statue of Washington, which stands at Union Square, N. Y.

He next opened a studio in the Arcade, Rochester N. Y., where he engaged chiefly in portrait painting for about twenty years, when his sight failed him. He then removed to Tarrytown, N. Y., but he has not remained idle. He made the model for a statue of heroic size for the new soldier's monument in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery. He has also finished a statue of Washington Irving, of which the late Gen. Alexander Hamilton said, "This statue is the most correct portrait I have ever seen—so life like—nothing wanting but breath to give us our Irving." He prepared the copy of the Coat of Arms of the Mundy family in possession of the Compiler of these records. He died in 1897.

The farm was then rented and the kettle was lost. The papers were given to William M. Van Nuis, his grandson, who now lives in New Brunswick, N. J. I once had access to these papers, but found no old Deed. It had perhaps been abstracted by some relic hunter.

FAMILY OF NICHOLAS MUNDY, SON OF SAMUEL MUNDY. (See p. 7)

NICHOLAS MUNDY, son of Samuel Mundy lived and died about a half mile south east of New Durham, and about two miles west of Metuchen N. J. His farm was joined on the South by the farm of Enos Talmage, where Ezekiel Talmage now (1903) resides, and on the north by the farm of Melancthon Mundy, which formerly belonged to Michael Martin. The house and barn stood on the east side of the road leading from the Amboy turnpike south across the Penn. R. R. and near the Talmage farm. Here his children were born, and also the three oldest children of his granddaughter, Phebe Mundy, who married Melancthon Mundy. These buildings became old and the house was taken down. The barn was burned a few years (1903) ago. The farm became the property of Melancthon Mundy, and is now (1903) owned by his grandson William F. Mundy (p 56). In 1904 the place was sold to a Mr. Smith. It had remained in possession of the family for at least a century and a half.

Nicholas Mundy died March 1, 1813 in the 74th year of his age.

He had four wives, and as is reported, 19 children, but an accurate record of them it has been impossible to obtain, chiefly because some of them removed to other states.

By her he had several children. viz: Nathan, Azariah, Isabel, and Ichabod. Nathan removed to the state of New York, near Big Flats, not far from Elmira. Isabel married Ephraim Mundy (See p farther on). Ichabod m Polly Conger, daughter of John Conger.

In book 28 of Wills at Trenton, N. J. p 331, and date Feb. 24, 1786, the will of Robert Mundy is recorded.

Mentions wife Isabel, and children Sophia, Israel, Asher, Robert, Thomas and Margaret. States wife pregnant and issue provided for in the Will. Names Thomas and Abraham, his brothers, as executors. These three brothers are probably sons of Thomas one of the sons of Nicholas Mundy (p 6).

In Book 34 of Wills, p 520, date Oct. 21, 1794, the Will of Thomas Mundy (probably the brother of Robert mentioned above) is recorded. One Thomas Mundy and Sarah Wilson were married Jan. 3, 1770, who, the Rev. Ezekiel W. Mundy believes, were his great-grand parents. But the name of his great-grand-father's wife, as the Will shows, was Elizabeth who may have been his second wife.

Of these children LEWIS settled near Binghamton, N. Y.

In 1888, I wrote to J. S. Mundy of Binghamton, who replied as follows:

MY DEAR SIR:—Yours of 18th received and noted. To reply chronologically let me say: I am 54 years of age; born eight miles from this city in town of Vestal. My father, Lecompte Mundy, was born in same town, 77 years ago. He died a year ago last March, aged 76. My grandfather, Ahimaaz Mundy, was born in New Jersey, near Metuchen or New Brunswick, 103 years ago this day, July 23, 1785. My great grandfather was named Lewis Mundy, and was born in New Jersey in same neighborhood, but the date I can not tell. Neither can I tell his father's name. There is a family Bible in this city which is nearly 200 years old, printed by Thomas Basket, of Oxford University, in England, which belonged to my great grandfather. I have just been to examine it, but find a part of the record gone entirely, and a part so obliterated that I can not decipher it. I have not seen it before in 35 years. My great grandmother Mundy was a Van Horn, of New Jersey, Mary Van Horn, and her mother's name was Le Compte. I often heard my father and grandfather speak of Nicholas Mundy, of New Jersey, but I never knew him or his immediate family. There are several Mundys still resident in New Jersey. My father knew some of them, but I did not. A brother of my grandfather, John Mundy, went west from this county many years ago, before I was born. I have no recollection of ever seeing him. It was said he lived in Iowa. Another brother, Lewis Mundy, went to Ohio, near Toledo. I think a place called Perrysburg. He died there—say 20 years ago. He has one daughter living there still, named Mary Blue. She visits the few that is left of the family here occasionally. This old Bible was sent to her not long ago, and the lady who now has it (Mrs. Mary Mann) thinks the record leaves were lost while it was there. The Bible came down to Mary's from the original owner, Mary Van Horn Mundy, wife of Lewis Mundy. There is one Nicholas Mundy residing at Big Flats, Chemung County, N. Y., say 60 miles west of here. He must be 65 years of age, is from the same family originally, New Jersey, same as ours. He is a bachelor. His ancestors I did not know, but have known him for many years. You may get information from him. Mr. "H. H. Mundy," or "J. S. Mundy," (same name as my own) of Newark, N. J., may give you information.

Yours Truly,

J. S. MUNDY.

J. S. MUNDY, writer of this letter, sends the following record:

Children of Lewis Mundy and Mary La Compte:

Phebe Mundy m Obadiah Wright in New Jersey.

Ahimaaz Mundy m Hannah Caffitee, d of Josiah Caffitee, a Revolutionary soldier of New Jersey.

Robert Cloud Mundy, died unmarried, age 30.

Catharine Mundy, m William Riley, of England.

John Mundy, m Maria Kellum, of Long Island.

Lewis Mundy m Rachel Stratton, of New Babylon, Long Island. Her people were Presbyterians. These are my father and mother.

Sarah Mundy m Daniel Hawk, of New Jersey.

Elizabeth Mundy m George Stevenson, of New Jersey.

Ephraim Mundy m Eliza Stevenson, of New Jersey.

Mary Mundy m Alexander Webster, of New York State.

(Personal recollections of Mary Blue, as far as memory will serve).

Forty years have passed since anything has been said to me regarding the first Mundys. I have always been told that my great grandfather lived in Morristown, N. J., and there my grandfather, Lewis Mundy, was born and married.

He had a brother, Enos, who lived in Morristown and died there, leaving a wife and four children (two sons and two daughters) who were not married 40 years ago. One son's name was John and one daughter's name was Fannie—do not know the names of others. Do not know if this Lewis Mundy (grandfather) had more than one brother, but suppose he had, as two children was not much of a family for those times. Don't know great grandfather's first name. My grandparents and their families left New Jersey and settled on the Susquehanna River in Vestal, seven miles below Binghampton, Broome County, N. Y., but don't know what year. Those who could give me dates have all died and there is no record.

Phebe is a name our family still keeps. My father's oldest sister was Phebe; my youngest sister was Phebe and died in 1854, leaving a child six months old whom we named Phebe.

There were three children in the family of Lewis Mundy, Jr. (my father)—Elizabeth, Mary and Phebe. Mary the only survivor of the family. I knew the Mundys of Big Flats, Chemung County, also the Mundys of Tioga County. They were all from Jersey and all distant relatives of Lewis Mundy. The Nicholas Mundy of Big Flats is a double Mundy, as yourself. His mother was Catharine Mundy, of Tioga County, sister of Nicholas and Sammy Mundy. You can obtain particulars from their son, Nicholas Mundy.

Lewis Mundy, First, married Mary Le Compte shortly after American Independence war declared. She was an orphan and had one brother, John. These two children were left the sole heirs to a vast estate. Their mother was Mary Van Horn and had much wealth from the Van Horns; and when the British took New York, John was taken or missing and never heard from since. Whether he was taken to England and then went to France and stayed with his father's people is not known. Mary Le Compte (his sister) went to Jersey and boarded with the parents of Lewis Mundy, first, and finally married Lewis. He was young and foolish and rapidly spent the wealth he became possessor of with his beautiful wife. He wasted it all and finally moved to Broome County and a poor country where they lived in poverty until she died, loved by all who knew her. She was an Episcopalian and Christian. Don't know if grandfather belonged to any church. At the time he settled in New York State there was no Presbyterian church near and the family were all Methodists. You say you heard of Mundys other than ourselves. There are, or were Mundys living in Seneca County, Ohio, and were from Jersey and 49th cousins to us. Father visited them and they were worthy people and Baptists. Forty years since we heard from them. Isaac Mundy was the head of the Seneca County Mundys. There are Mundys in Steuben County, Indiana, (David and Lewis), and respectable people. Have lost their postoffice address and have not heard from them in thirty-four years. My letters have been returned. They do not know that I am living, as my father's family all died with cholera in '54. That year I moved to Missouri and it was supposed I shared the same fate. I remained there fifteen months, learned enough of rebels and slavery, and their general wickedness, to make me glad to take the northern star for my guide and come back to God's country and stay.

NOTE—Mr. J. S. Mundy wrote the above from memory, and it is obvious to me that there are a few mistakes. But I print it as he has written. In the letter above he offered to give me further information. I immediately wrote for it, but he has not replied. This has frequently occurred in the work of gathering these records.

NOTE—Mr. E. L. Mundy, of Attica, Ohio, writes that his grandfather was Isaac Mundy, his grandmother was Sarah. That they had twenty-four children—12 of whom were twins—he thinks most of them died in infancy. The children whose names he learned are Isaac, John, Abram, Elias, Rachel and Nancy. Isaac married April 9, 1822, Cornelia Mundy, daughter of Ellis Mundy, at Ovid, N. Y. He removed to Attica, Seneca County, Ohio, in 1838. Isaac the father of E. L. Mundy was born at or near Plainfield, N. J. Dec. 9, 1898, died at Belvue, Ohio, June 1, 1883. Abram Mundy m Deborah Ann Roff. Rachel m a Mr. Batt. He could give no record of the others.

In Book 32, of Wills, at Trenton, N. J., p 433, date March 10, 1791, is recorded Will of Thomas Mundy, of Piscataway. It mentions wife, Mary; children, James and John (called "young children" in the Will). Mentions John Mundy as his father, and Martin Mundy as a brother. Sarah Mundy a subscribing witness.

NOTE—In 1883 I visited the graveyard at Piscataway-town, Middlesex County, N. J., with the Thomas Mundy whose family record has just been given, who pointed out three headstones with inscriptions:

Eliseus Mundy, d Sept. 13, 1794, age 25 years 11 months.

Thomas Mundy did not know who they are. It is possible this Thomas Mundy may have been the Thomas mentioned in the will of Robert Mundy as his brother (p 88).

FAMILY OF AARON MUNDY.

The witnesses are, Benajah Mundy (my grandfather) and his daughter Elizabeth. The executors are Sarah his wife, and Melancthon Mundy (my father.) They were near neighbors of my father.

NOTE—I remember Jacob Mundy, son of Zadoc, although I was a small boy when the family removed to Illinois
E. F. M.

In 1891 I received a letter from J. S. Mundy, whose name, I think, is John, then at Fairhaven, Washington, who was then managing a lumber mill. He is the brother of J. S. Mundy, whose letter appears on (p 94.). He says that his grandfather was Ahimaaz, that he was born in Metuchen, New Jersey, and emigrated to Vestal, Broome County, New York, eight miles below Binghamton, when a young man, as did also his father and a large family of children. His grandfather died about twenty-five years ago, and is buried where he lived. His father was Lecompte, and died in March three years ago at Ithaca, N. Y., 76 years of age. His father had no brother, but had three sisters who are dead. One sister has two daughters living at Binghamton. Another sister has one son, Dr. S. B. Foster living at Union, Broome County, N. Y. His father had four children of whom he is the oldest. A brother living at Watsonville, McKean County, Penn.; a sister, Mrs. Mersersau, lives at Sayre, Penn., and another, Mrs. Hovey, lives at Ithaca.

His grandfather had several brothers, but he knew only two of them. One died many years ago near Waverly, N. Y., leaving one son who lives in Pennsylvania and several daughters whose residence he does not know. His name was Ephraim. The name of my grandfather's other brother was John. He went in early days, before my recollection, somewhere into Iowa and had several children. Another brother named Lewis, went to Maumee City, Ohio, where he died some thirty years ago, leaving, I think, one son by a second wife, and two or three daughters. The son I never saw, and the daughters I have not seen for many years. One of them is named Mary Blue; she lives at or near the place of her father. I have heard of her within three or four years, but have not seen her since a small boy.

He further writes: My own home for about thirty years was at Williamsport, Penn., as was that of my brother H. F. Mundy, who now resides at Watsonville. Penn. I have three sons, one residing at Binghamton, one in Kansas City, and the youngest, 18 years old, is with me. My brother H. F., has two sons, both at Bradford, Penn., in the lumber business. My grandmother's name was Mary Lecompte, and if I mistake not, my grandfather's name was John Mundy, and that he had a son named John. I understood that there was a large family of children, girls and boys, but they are now dead and their descendants are scattered to various sections of the country. Very few, if any of them, continue to reside in the neighborhood of their birth place.

NOTE—I have recently heard from the family of John S. Mundy. He has died. His widow and two daughters, who are school teachers, now (1907) live in Ashland, Ore. E. F. M.

Received from Mary Blue a letter dated Perrysburg, Ohio, Aug. 28, 1888, whose name occurs in the letter of J. S. Mundy on p. 94; states that her father Lewis Mundy said that his father Enos Mundy lived in Washington Valley, N. J., and thinks that her father's family removed from New Jersey over eighty years ago. She states that her son is a printer and works in Toledo, Ohio, that her husband is now 68 years of age and she is 62.

In 1884 I received a letter from Lewis L. Mundy, 86 Charles Street, New York City, who writes as follows: My father's name was William Mundy. Many years ago he sailed to Virginia for pine wood and was lost, we suppose, as he never came back. When fifteen years old my mother took me to my father's sister who lived at Millstone, N. J., Mrs. Jane Smock. Her husband was a blacksmith. I learned that my father's folks lived in New Jersey, and I think my father had three brothers and two sisters. I think one sister lived in New York state. I saw two of the brothers, one was James Mundy who kept a livery stable in Cincinnati and the other was Henry Mundy, lived in Lyons, New York and was a hat manufacturer. Another brother I think was named Freeman Mundy but am not certain.

A letter from John Smock, of Millstone, N. J., in 1884, states that he was married to Jane Mundy in 1823. He states that James Mundy married Abigail Pyatt and their children were Rachel, Freeman, Jane, James, Christian, and William. Rachel married David Collins and had a son named Elias, a blacksmith, and went to Ohio, and after his death a Mr. Louvet, a miller, and they lived in New Brunswick N. J. Freeman went to Cincinnati and kept a hotel; Jane married John Smock in May 1823 and lived in Millstone, N. J., where she died Aug. 18, 1858, aged 54 years. James went to Springport, N. Y., and ran a boat on the canal. Henry married, lived at Lyons, N. Y., and was a hatter. Christian married Ezekiel Applegate, had two children and went to Allegany County, N. Y. Afterward married to a man whose name is not remembered. William married and moved to New York City and I know nothing more of him.

John Smock was born Aug. 23, 1802; his father was named Cornelius.

In January 1883, one Nathan Mundy died at Perth Amboy. I tried to find out who he was; learned that he was unmarried, was 75 years old, that his relatives were dead and with himself are buried in Metuchen, N. J. He left a small estate which he bequeathed to two orphan children of the people where he made his home for a long time before their death.—E. F. M.

MISCELLANEOUS RECORDS.

In the summer of 1882 I invited the families of Mundys resident in New Jersey to a gathering to be held Aug. 17th at Boynton Beach, a popular resort situated on Staten Island Sound, and about two miles east of Woodbridge, N. J. The day proved to be a very pleasant one, and the occasion was very much enjoyed by all present. The following is a Memorandum of this Mundy Picnic.

An account of this picnic appeared in the New Brunswick Semi-Weekly Fredonian for Friday, August 25, 1882:

THE MUNDY REUNION.

Thursday, August 17th, proved to be a beautiful day for such an event as the gathering of friends and kindred in a grove by the seaside. According to notice, the descendants of Nicholas Mundy, one of the early settlers of what is now Raritan Township in this County, met at Boynton Beach, a beautiful picnic ground in a grove on Staten Island Sound about two miles east of the village of Woodbridge, and just at the mouth of Woodbridge Creek. Although only a few invitations were sent out, and very little time taken in preparation, nearly a hundred of the Mundys and their kinsfolk came together to spend a day in social enjoyment. There were present the representatives of eight generations of the family, from the venerable Noah Mundy, who is now eighty-four years of age, down to the babe of only a few months. Many introductions were necessary, as some had never met before, and others if they had ever met had so changed with time that recognition was almost impossible. Very many far away, while feeling a deep interest in the occasion, were unable to be present. Among these was Mr. C. V. Mundy, of Belvidere, Illinois, so well known in New Brunswick, in Metuchen, and to the readers of the Fredonian, who, in sending his greetings wrote that if he had "strength to endure the fatigue, the thousand and more miles which separate us would not prevent myself and wife from being present on that festive and social occasion."

When it became necessary to supply the wants of the inner man, the table fairly groaned under the burden of provisions they had to bear. It appeared as if the Mundy maidens and matrons had done nothing for a week but cook and bake for the event. One who was not present at the dinner, on seeing the quantity of eatables loaded on the supper table, inquired whether the company had had anything to eat there that day. Everything passed so well that all agreed the picnic was a grand success, and it was proposed that the family have another reunion three years hence, and that a more general invitation be extended to the descendants of old Nicholas, when if things shall be as propitious as they were on this occasion, instead of a hundred present, may be expected a thousand.

It may be a matter of historic interest to very many citizens if we state that this said Nicholas Mundy resided in Metuchen as early as 1665—being a refugee from Great Britain, and coming to America by the way of the West Indies, probably in company with the Campbells, Martins and others who fled from religious persecutions in the old country to find a peaceful home on the virgin soil of the new. In that year he took up land and settled upon it. He died September 7, 1734, and was buried, as there is good reason to believe, in the old burying ground near the Presbyterian Church in Metuchen. A copy of his will, which is an ancient and curious document, was brought and read by Dr. E. M. Hunt, whose grandfather, Ezra Mundy, was a great-grandson of Nicholas. And from this Nicholas Mundy, so far as is now known, are descended all of this name residing in the counties of Middlesex, Union and Somerset; those living in the State of New York at or near what was once known as the "Lake country," together with very many others of this name who have gone out from Metuchen, and who or whose children are now residing in places east and west all along from Boston to San Francisco. And when in 1885 they meet at or near the "Vineyard" for a grand reunion they can be counted by the thousands.

COAT OF ARMS.

The Coat of Arms was furnished to me by Johnson M. Mundy, the Artist of our own family. I cannot recall where he said he obtained it. He also sent the following description.

The Arms of Mundy are, per pale (divided down the center), Gules (red), and Sable (black). On a cross engrailed Argent (white) five lozenges purpure (purple). On a chief, Or (gold) three eagles' legs, erased, a la guise, azure (blue). Crest, a wolf's head, erased, sable, bezanty (covered with small gold coins of Byzantium), spouting fire from its mouth. Motto; Deus Providebit.

REVOLUTIONARY HEROES.

The names of those, all from Middlesex county, N. J. who served in the revolutionary war are:

Benjamin Mundy, Clossen Mundy, Clarkson Mundy, Gabriel Mundy, Henry Mundy, Levi Mundy, Martin Mundy, Nicholas Mundy, Peter Mundy, Reuben Mundy and Samuel Mundy. All these names occur in this book but I can identify only the following: Henry Mundy was the father of Phinehas, Frazee, Frederick and Simeon (p 9); Gabriel was my maternal grandfather (p 78); and Samuel is the one who lived at the Landing near New Brunswick, N. J., (p 18.)

EXPLANATION OF MAP.

This map is specially intended to show the locality where our ancestor settled. His house stood near the spot where Joel Bloomfield lives. It also aids in a better understanding of explanatory paragraphs on pages 52, 77, 82, and 87.

The Vineyard Road is about one mile west of the P. R. R. depot at Metuchen, N. J. It now runs from the King's highway on the south to the New Brunswick turnpike on the north, in length about three-quarters of a mile. But before this turnpike was built, it ran in a northerly direction about half a mile farther, and intersected the road long known as the "old road" about half a mile west of London bridge. This old road then ran westward and passed in front of the home so long owned by Melancthon Mundy. About a quarter of a mile west of his house, the road divided, one branch going westward to New Brunswick, and the other North to New Durham and Plainfield. After the two turnpikes were built, the part of the vineyard road north of the New Brunswick turnpike was discontinued, and also that part of the old road between London bridge and the home of Melancthon Mundy, the Amboy turnpike taking its place. These discontinued parts are shown by dotted lines on the map.

M. stands for metuchen; N. B. for New Brunswick; M. M. for Melancthon Mundy; N. D. for New Durham; J. M. for Joshua Mundy; B. for Bonhamtown; and P. T. for Piscataway Town.

EARLIER MUNDY HISTORY.

In Hotten's list of Immigrants prior to 1700, is a record on p 35 of William Mundy embarked in the Bonaventure Jan. 1634, age 22 yrs. On page 244 Musters of inhabitants in Virginia at Elizabeth City 1623 Robert Mundy and Mary Mundy. On page 504 Among owners of land and servants in the parish of St. James Dec. 1679 is named Elizabeth Mundy having two servants, 75 acres of land and 35 negroes.

The first of the name of whom there is record is Sir R. Mundy in 1399. His descendant, Sir John Mundy, was Lord Mayor of London in 1522. Mr. E. M. Mundy, of Shipley Hall, Derby, England, informs me that in his Pedigree is this record: "In 1615 Francis Mundy married and had a son Edward Mundy, of Virginia, America. This Edward had a son Francis, who died in America in 1657."

In writing to Mr. Mundy in 1884, I expressed the opinion that our ancestors were probably French and may have come to England with William the Conqueror. In his record he states: "The origin of the family is as you surmise, French, for the original name was DeMontaye when the family came over with the Conqueror," He traces his pedigree back to 1399.

Encyclopedias give the name of Anthony Mundy 1553—1633, poet and playwright, son of Christopher Mundy, and who was born in London. They also mention Henry Mundy, son of Henry Mundy, who was a schoolmaster and physician, born in 1623.

Also, William Mundy, musical composer, lived in 1563. John Mundy, his son Peter Mundy, 1600—1667; Sir Robert Mundy, born 1805, died 1884, was an Admiral in the British Navy; and Sir Robert Miller Mundy, 1813—1892, youngest son of Edward Miller Mundy, of Shipley Hall, Derby, was a member of Parliament.

Mr. Christian V. Mundy states in a letter to me, dated March 12, 1872, "The earliest mention I ever heard of the name was in in a rather indifferent couplet said to apply to one of Cromwell's officers:

"Oh, blessed be the Sabbath day, but cursed be the pelf,
The week begins on Tuesday, for Mundy's hanged himself."

OLD WILLS.

WILL OF NICHOLAS MUNDY, from Liber B p. 574, at Trenton, N. J., Sept. 2, 1734:

"In the name of God, Amen: I Nicholas Mundy, of the Vineyard, in the Township of Piscattuckqua, in the County of Middlesex, Province of New Jersey, yeoman, weak of body but of perfect mind and memory, thanks be to God therefor, but knowing the uncertainty of this mortal life and that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and testament, viz: Principally and first of all I give and recommend my soul to God who gave it and my body to ye earth to be buried in a quiet and decent and christianlike manner and at ye discretion hereafter named, and as touching my worldly estate wherewith it has pleased God to bless me in this life, I give, bequeath, devise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form: Imprimus, I give and bequeath unto my well-beloved wife, Hope Mundy, after all my debts and funeral charges are fully satisfied and paid, 1-3 part of all my movable estate, together with one feather-bed and all ye furniture thereunto belonging, also one large brass kettle, one side-saddle, also all the cloth that is or shall be spun by my wife after my decease to be disposed of as she shall think fit at her own will and pleasure. Item: I give to my daughter Mary Luke 5 shillings. Item: I give to my daughter Margaret Mundy 5 shillings. Item: I give and bequeath to my beloved son Samuel Mundy and to his heirs and assigns forever after my wife's decease, all and every ye several pieces and parcels of lands and meadows, situate, lying and being in ye Vineyard, viz: Seventeen acres of upland, beginning at a stake at ye side of John Martin's, junior, from thence running easterly ten chains to a stake marked on four sides; from thence running north by east twenty chains to a small white oak standing in the line marked on three sides; from thence west southerly twelve chains to a walnut marked on four sides; from thence twenty chains southwesterly to ye corner fence of Joseph Martin's; from thence to ye first mentioned stake; bounded south by Henry Loveal; west by ye highway; east by Mistriss Fitz Randolph, north by Nicholas Mundy's great division.
